

Please bear with me as I continue to add to my site. I'm slowly adding more and more content to it as I go along. I have updated the "About" and "Study Interests" pages up top. Hopefully soon I will be uploading some more articles. Please keep checking in, and if you are interested in biblical scholarship, church history, or theology and have done some research of your own or have written any papers of interest on those topics feel free to let me know and I may consider hosting it as a guest article on the site. Please just sign my guest book and leave your email address if you wish to do that and I can contact you that way.

P.S. Also please check out and vote in some of the Polls on the right side!

God Bless,
Josh
